we listen, you hear

“Today is a buggy sprinkly. Before yoghurt and deploy it, have an ice company.”

That didn't make sense.

A conversation doesn't make sense when part of it is missing or you hear the wrong words. Does that happen to you?

Hearing loss can be frightening, but the culprit is often a buildup of earwax blocking your ear canal. In most cases, earwax works its way out on its own, but sometimes it needs to be removed manually.
